AKC Buried Hides from An NACSW Perspective with Holly Roche

Buried hides are a search element for AKC trials, so if you ever plan to trial in that venue, this is a workshop for you! If you plan to trial in any other nose work ® venue (NACSW, PSD, USCSS), or not even compete at all, this is still a workshop for you! You might not ever do a buried hide in competition, but practicing buried hides still serves as an opportunity to strengthen your dog's understanding of the value of odor in a complex odor picture. And, this new layer of search skills can be applied in a variety of ways.

This seminar is lecture and hands on work.

- 🐾 Lecture/Discussion
- 🐾 Simple searches to teach the dog about odor in this context.
- 🐾 We will follow the dogs lead, but plan to approximately cover what is a month of training strategies
- 🐾 Dogs MUST work solidly on upaired birch, but we will assume no prior experience with buried hides

AKC Buried Hides From An NACSW Perspective with Holly Roche

Holly Roche started with nose work in January of 2011 with her greyhound partner, BoomBoom. She became a Certified Nose Work Instructor in early 2015 and a licensed AKC scent work judge in 2017. Holly teaches about 25-30 nose work teams on a weekly basis and enjoys the challenge of working with new teams in workshops. The goal is always to teach in a way that is supportive- for both members of every team, no matter what nose work venue they compete in, and even if they don't compete at all. Holly's current greyhound partner, Wasabi, is just starting her adventures with target odor...

In the "real world," Holly supports her dog habit as a massage therapist and health educator at Wentworth-Douglass Hospital in Dover, NH. Her husband, Mike, competes in nose work at the NACSW Elite level with his greyhound, Logan.
